Cage Meet Will Open At Clarence

The first of three four-team holiday tournaments involving Western New York high school basketball teams this week will get underway tonight at Clarence Central.

In the 7:30 p.m. opener, Park School (1-0) will oppose Cardinal Dougherty (3-1). The second game will pair West Seneca (3-1) against Clarence (0-3).

The losers will meet in a consolation game at 7:30 p.m. Friday, with the winners to clash for the title in the second game that night. Dougherty, which was host for the tourney in its first two years, also won the championship on each occasion.

West Seneca is a newcomer to the tourney, replacing Akron. Two other tournaments will be held for the first time Thursday and Friday nights at Eden and Springville.
