Park nine drops pair, tennis wins

Spring sports season opened last week at Park when visited by Allendale School of Rochester whose defending champions won the baseball game 17-1. While Park struggled with its pitching and erratic play afield, the Rochesterians took advantage of every error of commission and omission to mount its margin with 3 runs in the first to ice the contest. Catcher Bill Shaw had 3 hits, scored 4 runs and drove in 5 John Garrett's double cleared the bases and Jim Williams was 2 for 3 and scored 5 runs. For Park, Mark Cox and Don Pulli stroked triples in a losing cause.

The tennis team reversed the decision by whitewashing Allendale 5-0.

In the return game on Friday at Rochester, the results were exactly the same although the baseball contest was a different story. Allendale prevailed in the 5th inning when a hit batter, an infield single and a fielders choice set up a single by Bill Kessler which dropped behind second and was followed by Jim Williams homer and the final margin. In the top of the 7th, Jeff Rochwarger got his second extra base hit, a triple, and then was doubled at home, when Williams raced deep in center for Dave Mols line drive and hit the cutoff man for a perfect throw to the plate. Earlier Rochwargers double scored 2 for Park while Williams also had 2 singles for a perfect day and 3 RBI's. Mark Cox pitched a much improved game for Park and was victimized by some judgement errors which cost Park several runs and contributed to setting up Allendale's tying scores.

The tennis team again triumphed with a 5-0 score.
